THE MODEL RAG INFORMATION

Our Format:

The Model Rag is divided into several sections to allow you to more easily find the things that you are most interested in. We have separate sections for items for sale, items wanted, misc (tack, services, clubs, etc.) model show classlists, a "People, Places & Things" section to let you hear about the (yes, you guessed it!) people, places & things that make this hobby special, and our commentary section, which includes "The Litterbox" where you can air your gripes about events, or get the lowdown on the latest rumours. The Model Rag is created with a Macintosh 512K computer, using MacPaint, FullPaint, WetPaint, Mac the Knife, Art a la Mac, and Graphic Works programs.

Our Subscription Rates:

The Model Rag is published bi-monthly, and is sent on the 15th of the month (February, April, June, August, October, December). Subscriptions are $15.00 for a one-year subscription. Trial issues are $3.25. All issues are mailed flat in manila envelopes, and are sent FIRST CLASS!

Our Advertising Rates:

Every subscriber to The Model Rag receives one free 50-word classified ad (not including name/address) per issue. Plus, subscribers are offered reduced rates on additional ads.

The ad rates are as follows:

	Subscribers	Non-subscribers
Full page	$4.00/page/issue	$8.00/page/issue
Half page	$2.50/issue	$5.00/issue
Quarter page	$1.25/issue	$2.50/issue
Classifieds (50 words or less)	$ .75/issue	$1.50/issue

Deadline for submission of advertising is the 1st of the month that the issue is due out. For example, the deadline for the February 15th issue is February 1st. Advertising and subscription rates are subject to change with one issue's notice. We reserve the right to re-type, shrink-to-fit, and/or edit copy.

ALSO...WANTED...TEXAS MODEL HORSE COLLECTORS...Are you TIRED of living in live-show WASTELAND??? Join the Texas model horse club! Write for details!!!

ALSO: I am involved in restoring old Breyers to new condition. PLEASE, before you throw it out as an "RR prospect", consider whether it can be restored. I am interested in old and/or rare Breyers; they can be restored if they are in good condition but have a broken or missing leg; badly yellowed models can also be restored. I am willing to buy these models from you, or I can restore it for you; however, I don't guarantee my restoration work like I do my RRH's. Sometimes they can't be fixed, but it's well worth the time & effort to TRY!!!

Awards - Ribbons - Rosettes

Are you planning a live show in the near future? A photo show with rosettes as awards? Snohomish Ribbon Company is the perfect place to get your flats and rosettes for your next show!

Snohomish Ribbon Company offers a wide variety of flats and rosettes at reasonable prices. You may choose from our basic designs, or we will work with you on a custom color combination or rosette design.

Since being contacted by Shining Aspen (Daphne Macpherson) two years ago - when we had never even heard of model horse shows! - we have done awards for model shows (live and photo) in Washington, Oregon, Illinois, and Arizona. Many of these customers have placed repeat orders, and have told us we have the most competitive prices they have found anywhere. See the photo below for an example of our work.

Our flat ribbons start at $.14/ribbon (2" x 8" w/pinked top). Price breaks are offered at 1-500, 501 - 1000, & 1001 and over. We also have flats with card, eyelet & cord starting at $.22/ribbon.

We offer a variety of rosette styles & sizes:

Single Rosettes in 3 1/2", 4" & 4 1/2" sizes

Double Rosettes in 4 1/2" and 5 1/2" sizes

Silk Flower Double Rosettes in 4 1/2", 5 1/2" and 6" outer rosettes

All Rosette styles may be ordered with one, two or three streamers, as well as with five streamers with center streamer overlay (perfect for Grand/Reserve awards). We have several horse motif logos available for use on rosette buttons, or for the "custom look" on your ribbons, we can make a die-cut of your club or stable logo for only $15.

Rosette prices run from $.70 base price* for our single 3 1/2" rosette with one 2" x 8" streamer (simplest design), to $4.50 base price* for our deluxe 6" double rosette with silk flower center and five 2" x 15" streamers with a center streamer overlay.

*All orders are subject to a $3.00 set-up charge, and there are additional charges for special items, such as placing or class changes, colored foil ink (other than gold), or added ribbon petals on rosettes.

Write for our current price list for full details on all pricing. We can also tell you what ribbon and silk flower colors are available, provide examples of available logos, or give you a price quote on a specific ribbon design if you include a drawing or complete description. Give Snohomish Ribbon Company your next ribbon order - you and your show entrants will love the results!

MODEL HORSE SHOW AND CONVENTION

OPEN TO ALL BREYER MODELS

OCTOBER 28-29, 1989

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO

WHY ATTEND THE 1989 WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS?

*THE BEST LOCATION: The magnificent Sheraton is located right next to historic Old Town of Albuquerque, New Mexico. There are many great things to see including museums and Indian Pueblos.

*THE BEST TIME: The World Championships will be held on the same days as the finals of the National Arabian Show. One of the premier events for horse lovers. In addition to the show itself, there are beautiful stalls, celebrities, art, magazines, books, parties, and lots of things to buy, all devoted to horses. It's really something to see.

*THE MOST AWARDS: The Breyer World Championships has almost 300 championships with beautiful rosettes given to them all. Plus there are trophies to overall champions and lovely ribbons with placings to 10th.

*THE BEST PLACE TO BUY MODELS: We have a Model Horse Auction, with remakes by famous artist, special runs, discontinued Breyers and many great models of all types.

*THE BEST BARGAIN: It's actually four shows in two days, yet our entry fee is low. In addition if enough rooms are booked at the Sheraton, we'll be giving a $5.00 rebate back to each stable exhibitor!

IT'S A FACT - THIS SHOW HAS IT ALL!

The 1988 WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

The 1988 Breyer Model Horse World Championships held in Henderson Nevada turned out to be another large and very successful show. This year was the 5th annual show and was one of the best ever.

Exhibitors came from all over the United States, from California to Florida. We even had a couple of cowboys to show and help judge the tough harness classes. It was great fun meeting people from so many different states and seeing their beautiful Breyer models.

A very special thanks to Janice Meixner, our new show secretary for doing such a terrific job. To James Miller our auctioneer and the person who gave us such a fine sound system, to all who donated door prizes, in particular Horses International, Bentley Sales Company and Double Diamond Ranch. And a big thanks to the judges who worked so hard and did a super job.

Laurie's Drivel Column

(With added Editorial Comments by Kay - Hee hee!)

Hello to you all from "Driveland." Kind of like "Disneyland" only there are no lines. Except at the front door to get OUT. (Kay here...also, the staff does NOT have to wear polyester costumes and nametags, although they may if they so desire...) We have all the different "lands" here at Jensen's Driveland.

We have "Frontierland"...the garage where untamed sporting equipment prowls behind the water heater to LEAP OUT and conk you on the head! Where the dreaded "walking washer" awaits...ready to spew soapy water rivers on which Merryll's inflatable swim floaties ("Swim floaties"?) "shoot the rapids." Deadly gases lurk near the stockade of garbage cans. (Perhaps that's just the unwashed laundry...)

We also have "Adventureland." The hub of this area is my kitchen table on which sits a mountain (virtually about the height of K2) (May I assume that you mean "K-2", the mountain, and not "Kay-squared?" Good...I'll not be offended then...) of papers, envelopes, junk mail, photos, food, horses, etc. At one end of the Adventureland is the buffet, which, according to Emily Post, should contain all my linens and placemats, silver, candlesticks, and the like, for entertaining. (I entertain so often...the only things I entertain these days are thoughts of running away and never coming back.) (Maybe, Emily is referring to how you take your linens, placemats, silver, and candlesticks and juggle them to entertain those lucky people at your live shows...) Anyhow, the buffet doesn't contain the usual high brow crud it should. It contains 3 years of Arabian Horse World and various magazines, photo albums, and catalogs that are horsey related. Opening ANY of the buffet drawers is truly and Adventure.

At the other end of Adventureland is the closet (Closet-land?? Don't seem to recall that one. Maybe your Disneyland map needs updating...) This closet is straight out of "Tennessee Tuxedo" - who was the professor that had the closet where everything dumped onto whoever opened it? He had a three-dimensional blackboard. (Oh, THAT Tennessee Tuxedo!) Anyhow, my closet is like that. Thrills.

We also have "Fantasyland." This primarily is the bowl we keep our bills in. As the bills come in, I cram them into the yellow bowl and fantasize about my ability to pay them. So much for Fantasyland.

Finally, we have "Tomorrowland." My friend says this actually is where the bills should go. "That's where mine are," she says. "They'll be there for several tomorrows." Also in Tomorrowland is the wash, the ironing, Christmas Shopping, and the models I intend to remake for myself!

Ran into lots of Drivel material in the local paper this time around. There was an article on "Chicken Boy." Apparently, "Chicken Boy" is a large fiberglass chickeny looking boy (or boyish chicken). (In reviewing the article, I found that he's got the body of a muscle man and the head of a cartoon chicken.) He used to be a sign for a broasted chicken take-out place in L.A. (Where else??) A girl who saw that he was going to be demolished because he exceeded new height limits for signs in the city offered to save him. She says she has made up T-Shirts with a picture of Chicken Boy on them and his slogan: "Too tall to live, too wierd to die." (Wow - that sounds like ME!! Don't you think?) I would LOVE to have one of these T-Shirts. I told Kay about my desire to have a chicken boy shirt, and how the article didn't mention where to send away for one. She said that maybe our Rag Readers could help. Can you??

Here's the slug recipe of the issue: Thanks again to Kay, who spent many tedious hours Xeroxing this off for me to read...(Honest, I'm not responsible for this...)

SLUG SHAKE - A DIETER'S DELIGHT

(Note: one slug shake per week will reduce appetites considerably. Plus, you will run each time someone threatens to serve the shake...and your stomach muscles will be strengthened through constant dry heaving during preparation).

MDX: 3 large green slugs

1 brown egg

1 cup skim milk

1 cup frozen yogurt (any flavor)

Be sure to drop in slugs one at a time so blender doesn't clog up with slime.

Again, I am not the author of this recipe!!

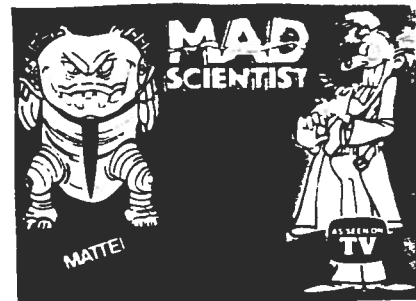

Been reading Stephanie Brushes column. She has one today on the "high hurdles of true love." (Things that people expect out of you in order to be your friend/date/long-term-type person (I guess that's me...the Long-Term Typist!)) She says that she has found women to be pretty unforgiving..."He has to have read three good books and be able to bench press 480 pounds...a sort of Conan the Librarian." I was trying to figure out what "hurdles" I put in front of people in order to be considered for long-term friendship (double oxers, I believe), and I decided on the following qualities: (see if you have any of these, Kay...)

1. Intelligence is a MUST. (Well, guess that's it for me!) I know a girl who is a sweet person but I have a hard time dealing with her misuse of words...the other day she was saying that her car kept leaving "emancipated" mice on her doorstep. She MEANT "emaciated," not emancipated. I asked her if they were fugitive mice set free by animal rights activists ("Free the mice! Free the mice!") Anyhow, she's a real kick.

2. A Good Sense of Humor. We here at the Model Rag value this quality immensely. We count on our readers to have this quality, so they will keep renewing when we send the "Renew, or else!" reminders.

3. Money. Lots of money. HA HA just kidding. Heather has money. Kay has money. (You obviously have not seen my bank account lately...) I have no money. Thank goodness I'm halfway intelligent enough to know that I need to have a sense of humor about having no money.

Enough on that subject. Onward to the "Weird Toy Ads." I found this one in the paper the other day. "DISSECT AN ALIEN" PLAYSET? Ish. Carla Skinner also sent in a weird toy ad for "Army Ants...vicious little bugs that kids can squish and squash!" Double Ish.

8922. VODOO DOLL. At last, our exclusive Voodoo Doll is in stock. We had an entire village in China hand sew these beauties. Why Voodoo? It's the now thing RIGHT NOW. For once in your life you can be the first on your block to own one. Before you see it on TV, read about it in USA Today or see the oddball feature story on the lower left side of the second section of the Wall Street Journal. It is 9" tall of stuffed bright red fabric. The header color is Haitian yellow with the words: IS IT VODOO? Printed in aqua blue. On the reverse are the instructions:

"We think you know what to do with this. And we hope that you only use the white pins. However, since you have free choice in life, we have supplied the black pins as well." In black lettering on the bright red fabric you have the choice of inserting pins (5 white ones and 5 black included) to stop, begin, end, get or give (depending on the color pin): marriage, enlightenment, nose hair, a new car, a flat tire, a job, slugs, reverse baldness, lose keys, be found innocent, win at the track, rejection, be free of back pain, win at bingo, divorce, lose weight, back pain, be found guilty, win the lottery, have clear skin, lose money, have car towed, get busted, lose race, an IRS refund, stock split, delayed flight, stock crash, fleas, lose mind, have kittens, lose at the races, top smoking, lose virginity, bounce check, freedom, find gold, gain weight, impotence, find happiness, IRS audit, win race, go to prison, hate, lose hair, depressions, love, weeds, start smoking, acceptance, find keys, lose job, S.E.C. investigation, zits or ecstasy. We think that about wraps up all your desires, goals, fears, and fantasies. How many times have you searched the city for a reasonably priced voodoo doll? Your search is over. No special training is required. This is not a toy so please do not give it to children or nut cases. And don't be messing with the voodoo world if you are silly $4.50 each.

Carla writes, "My son was given a set of three of these ants for his birthday by a friend (?)." Some friend. They look a lot like Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, don't they?? What a Coincidence!

Speaking of weird toys, here's a new item from the Archie McPhee Christmas Catalog: VODOO DOLL. "Don't be messing with the voodoo world if you are silly" ??? Well, that excludes me from owning a voodoo doll, and Kay also, I think. (Whew!) Heather could probably use one tho. (Perhaps she already has one in case someone ignores our threats and doesn't renew!) (Pshaw! No one would be THAT foolish.....would they??)

Also, here is an ad that Kay found for Nick at Nite:

Thank you Karen and Kathleen for the recent additions to my band of stuffed frogs (The Zomboid Hoppers)...and for the froggy T-Shirt. Also neglected to thank Chris Cook and Laura Doll for stopping by to see me a month or so ago...it was great visiting! And thanks for the gifts: a Beswick TB and a smoking dog. (Laura lit a cigarette for the dog and I just about peed my pants laughing...I sent it to Kay. Wonder what she thought of it? Kay?) (As of this typing, I have not yet received said smoking animal, but should it arrive in time, I will be sure and give it a Critic's Corner review...)

I also found the following in an article about having a patron animal (in my case, it's real live dead stuffed frogs...) I can identify with the following clipping. (Hmmm...I wonder what this says about those of us with shelf after shelf crammed full of little plastic horsies?)

I was great to meet everyone at Heather's "California Live" show. Sorry if I seemed so busy...I wanted to visit with everyone but between showing, taking remake orders, and nursing the baby (a.k.a. Lloyd the Voracious), I didn't get to talk to everyone as much as I'd hoped to. Should be easier at WRC. You ARE all going to come, AREN'T you? Ed Gonzales (our favorite crazy guy) and Marney Valerius (equally crazy) will be judging. We'll have an auction, an exhibitor's party, AND a sand castle building contest! If you haven't sent for info, be sure to do so! I hope Kay will be able to come. (Kay?) (I don't know...when is it?) W.R.C. will be held on May 13-14, incidentally. So be there or be triangular! (Oh, well, we'll have to see what we can arrange...I think that after another winter here in the frozen wasteland, we should be just about ready for another visit to good old So Cal. After all, I can't really call home a place where the weatherman can say, "And the high tomorrow will be 22 degrees," with a straight face. *SIGH*)

No "Bow-Wows" this issue. C'mon - send 'em in!

Sheryl Leisure wrote in regarding my last column and Gilligan's Island..."I wanted to give you the info on 'The Mosquitos.' The real name of the band was 'The Wellingtons' and they were the guest star band because they sang the actual famous theme song we all know and love (The Gilligan's Island Theme Song)." (Did they sing both versions of the theme? Even the original one where they didn't bother to mention the Professor and Mary Ann by name? They just called them "...and the rest...") Well thank you for the update, Sheryl! One more question: Was that their real hair?

By the way - - Sheryl says she's seen a stuffed live dead crocodile dressed as a doctor (a "Croctologist"?!). I told her to buy him for me.

Well, I'd best be done with this. But I will not disappoint you again...I actually have THE INSECT PICTURE OF THE ISSUE! (Next page). I probably have lots more I forgot to say - if your letter isn't mentioned this time...I will put it in next issue.

Here's the quote to live by:

"If you think no one cares if you're alive, try missing a couple of car payments."

-Earl Wilson-

Best wishes for a healthy and prosperous 1989! Bye!

Laurie

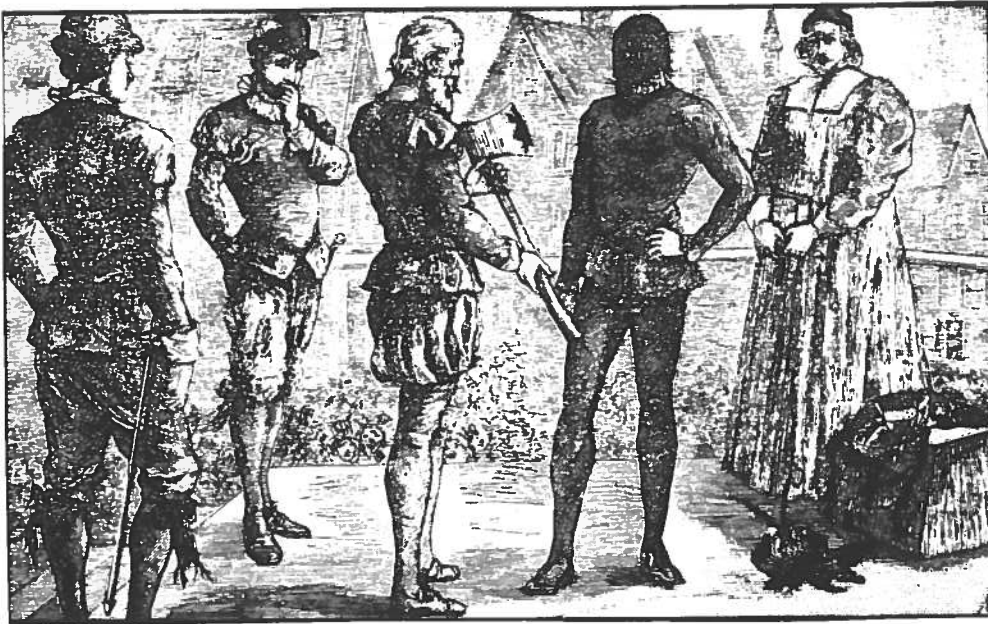

People often feel a mysterious hankering to collect (or surround themselves with) relics and graven images of a particular species of the animal kingdom. They cannot usually tell you where it all began.

"Well, my girlfriend used to tell me I looked a little like a rooster," one man might say. "So the next thing you know, people were giving me little ceramic roosters and rooster paperweights and stolen coffee mugs from Stan's Sign of the Rooster, which I think is a truck stop out on I-96. But lately, my friends have been ripping their sign down for me at least once a week, and I keep telling them: 'I don't have room for it.'"

Sometimes a physical resemblance does nothing to explain the patron animal. I know a lot of women who collect pig aprons and pig statues, and fine-artwork highlighting pig lore.

The trouble is that sometimes you wake up in the morning and realize that by some subtle shift of physical politics, your life is under the control, say, of frogs, rather than the other way around.

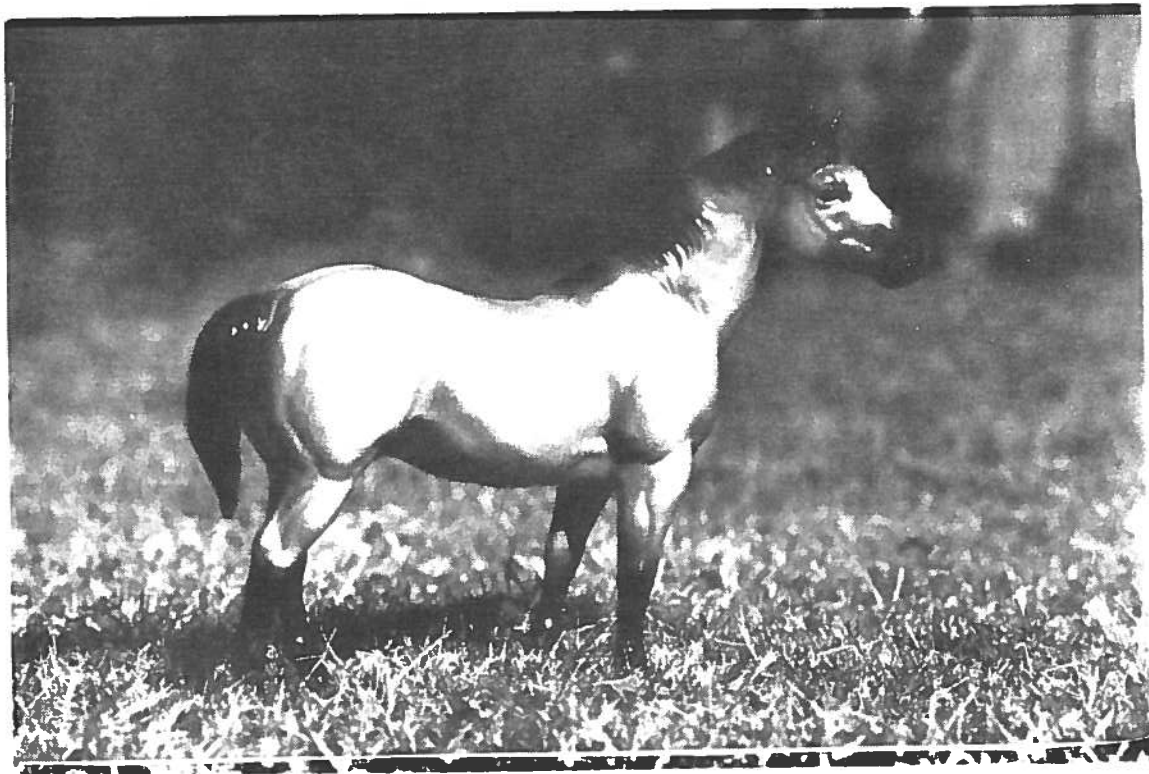

You make an announcement to your friends that this year at Christmas you would like to receive underwear from Frederick's of Hollywood, rather than yet another watercolor of tiny frogs playing the ukelele. And your friends say things like, "She doesn't mean it. Who would Phoebe be, after all, if not a Frog Person?"

Hagen-Renaker Corner by L. Jensen

The "Two Bits" Quarter Horse stallion was actually released with two names: "Two Bits" and "Erin." This is confusing to collectors - "Erin" is actually the mare in this family set. The stallion was produced from 1959 to 1962 and was called "Two Bits." From 1962 to 1972 he was incorrectly called "Erin." He came in buckskin and brown, 1959 to 1972. He was re-released from 1983 to 1986 and came in matte and glossy bay. A special run of 25 matte palomino and 25 glossy palomino was manufactured in 1985.

"Two Bits" stands 5 3/4" at the ear tips. He originally sold for $4.00.

SPECIAL TIPS FOR REALISTIC TABLETOP PHOTOGRAPHS - BY LINDA STURHANN

What makes a good model horse photograph and what makes your beautiful model look like just another hunk of plastic? The secret to realistic photos relies on your ability to fool the eye, to make the person believe he is looking at a real horse. This is accomplished with tabletop photography, the technique of making the scale model look like the real thing through attention to the details that give tabletop away.

A lot of the techniques mentioned in this article were learned from model railroad enthusiasts. If you are interested in learning more about the art of tabletop, there are many railroad magazines available. They have some fantastic ideas on making believable miniature scenes. You can create everything from a pine forest to the New Jersey Palisades to the sandstone formations of the Dakota Badlands right in your own backyard. All it takes is a little time and a little practice.

Tabletop tips:

1. Try to raise the surface that the model will be posed on. I use my picnic table. I cover it with a torn open garbage bag so it is easier to retrieve granular materials such as the "dirt."
2. It is always better to use a prop that is a bit too small than one that is a bit too large. Nothing makes a model look more like a model than something like a prop bale of hay that is as long as the horse.
3. Dirt or sand comes out looking like small rocks when photographed close up. Take a tip from the model railroaders and use old coffee grounds for dirt. Always dry them thoroughly by spreading them thinly on a cookie sheet and baking them in the oven for about 20 minutes at 350. Otherwise, they might stain a light colored horse or will mold if you try to store them. By the way, the best storage container for your dried coffee grounds is the can the coffee came in.
4. To simulate the sand or composition footing used in an indoor arena, use crushed kitty litter or the clay granules used in a garage to soak up grease. Place the kitty litter in a double garbage bag and roll it with a rolling pin. Crushing the kitty litter will break down the granules that may appear too large in the photo.
5. Brick walkways are easy to make around a barn area. Buy a strip of doll house bricks that come on a web backing. DO NOT separate the bricks, but use them attached to the backing. (The backing can be cut to fit a specific space. Just place them where you want your walkway. Press a painted strip of balsa against the side of the bricks. (It can be held in place with small pieces of clay). This gives the finished look that brick walks usually have. Next, pour salt into the spaces between the bricks; it photographs like the white mortar used with bricks. To be most effective, the walkway should not be photographed too closely, just sort of in the background, or the salt will appear too granular.
6. Try to keep any vertical backdrop far enough away from the model, that the model's shadow does not fall on it. Since you are trying to achieve the feeling of depth, a shadow that goes across the ground and up the front of the backdrop will only accentuate how close the backdrop really is.
7. Try to keep backgrounds somewhat neutral. The busier the background, the harder it is to see your horse. One of the best backgrounds I have found is the flat front of one of the evergreen shrubs in my front yard. It photographs like a dense pine forest and goes pretty much unseen.
8. Try not to photograph a dark horse against a dark background. The details of the outline of the horse tend to become lost. If this is a problem, try to reflect light on the horse with a piece of white paper, etc, to help define the lines. (See photo tip #11).
9. For close shots, wild bird seed makes a fairly good simulation of sweet feed.

10. Model railroad pine trees make excellent potted plants to place in front of stadium jumps. Anything that looks like a pot, either miniature buckets or even the tops for spray cans can be used to hold the trees. Place taller ones in front of the jump standards and smaller ones in front of walls or between the elements of an oxer.
11. Any piece of tack that does not lie flat or in the correct place can be adhered to the model with a miniscule piece of clay. Use a synthetic clay in white or a natural color. If you use a bright or dark color, it may stain a light colored model. Leave the clay on the model as short a time as practical.
12. It is easy to simulate a post and rider fence, either painted or stained (see diagram). Use the same balsa wood used in doll house construction. Three sections are usually enough to spread across the photo frame. The center section will have three upright pieces. Carefully tack thin scraps of wood to the bottom of each upright so it will stand. Glue two pieces of balsa (1/4 inch wide) across the center upright and half way across the two outer uprights. Weight until dry. The two outer sections of fence only have a center upright and an upright on one end (the end without an upright will be placed against the upright on either end of the center section). Glue outer sections the same way you glued the center. Once everything is dried, paint or stain the fence sections. When the fence is in place in front of the backdrop, whatever you use as dirt will cover the flat piece of wood on the bottom of the fence and help to keep it in place.

O.K. - Time for "Kay's Apologies of the Issue" - I Apologize for messing up the advertising rate section of last issue's "Rag Info" page. When I changed the rates last time, I screwed up the spacing and didn't catch it before it went to print. Anyway - it is fixed now, so NO MORE EXCUSES! Hee!

And I Apologize for skipping a page in the For Sale section last time! It was between two pages that weren't going to be printed last issue, and it just slipped through the old sieve. Anyway, everyone be sure and read the SECOND page in FOR SALE, TWICE! Sorry to Michelle and Joy!!

Laurie has come up with yet another brainstorm....a brief write-up on different model clubs to appear in and around the blank spaces in The Rag. In exchange, we ask that the club mention their Rag write-up in their club news or information sheet; e.g. "As mentioned in The Model Rag...for more information send SASE to Heather Wells, 3985 Strong St, Riverside, CA 92501." (Kay here - kind of like..."As seen on T.V. - The amazing GINZU Rag! It slices, it dices, it leaves no sacred cow unturned...") So... the club gets a free write-up, and we gets some publicity ourselves! Established clubs only, no new start-ups. Please send all info to Laurie, address elsewhere...

Hey - I hear that Kim Harvey does DOG IMITATIONS! Do you do a Pekinese, Kim?

From Bettye Brown...

She received a catalog for Australian Stock Saddles, and noticed that there was one with a three-inch tree (fits H-R Metalchex) for $35. She talked to the owner of the operation, and he mentioned that he was thinking about doing a 1 1/2-inch tree saddle. Australian Stock Saddles are now approved for use in some classes by the NISH Assoc. The catalog is 36 pages, and cost $3.00: P.O. Box 987, Malibu, CA 90265. Maybe if enough people ask, he'll get to work on that smaller saddle!

A few words from our hecklers...oops! LISTENING AUDIENCE:

"WELL, I got some goodies for the Rag for you..you notice that I am clearly typing them verbatim so that we don't have anymore EDITORIAL FREEDOM this time! My goodness, the mail I have been receiving in response to that ad. "Burned in effigy indeed." -B.R.- (For those of you who missed it, please note the ad on page 28 of the last issue...)

"Keep up the good work with the MR. My favorite is Pitterbox with the latest news of SR models, etc., and then People, Places & Things. The Drive Column is always a treat too!" -Y.O.-

"Keep up the good work - love the mag!! And you won't be sending me and "Out Else" items at renewal time; I'll renew as long as you three will print!" - D.M. -

I thought you guys at the Rag might be interested in this story....

I take my riding lessons at Foxfield Academy (yes, the same stable in last year's JAH). Among the lesson horses is a small bay paint mare named Checkers, a mare given to Foxfield about a year and a half ago.

The mare was somewhat chubby when they first got her, so teachers Lynn, Susie, and Nancy set out to thin her out. They decreased her meal size and increased her physical activity by training her over cross-country jumps and more involvement with students; i.e. their summer camp and lessons. The weight should have plummeted.

Despite this, Checkers refused to thin out. Not too long before completing Checkers's first year at Foxfield, she was, as always, turned loose in the Pony Pasture after a normal day of work. The next morning Lynn was heading out to the pasture to retrieve lesson horses when she spotted what looked like a dog in the field. Great, Scooby got in there again, she thought. But as she got closer, the thing began to look more and more like a horse and less than the stable dog. Oh, my God! she thought. Yep, Checkers had been chubby for a reason -- she was pregnant!

The foal was as healthy as she could be, and was (and still is) very spicy in nature. Despite the fact that her dam had been jumped three days before her birth (and she didn't refuse a single fence, by the way), the foal was perfect. Named Surprise Package, of course, the sharp looking chocolate bay paint filly has grown up since that fateful day back in April, but I just can't get over the unbelievable story of this beautiful foal, a story much like Marguarite Henry's book Our First Pony.

And would you like to know the irony of this story? The reason Checkers's old owners had given her away was because they couldn't get her in foal!!!!!!!

--Laura Conway--

And from our "good tips" department....

People who are looking for trail obstacles should check out the Christmas decorations departments in local stores. Many of the seasonal items are usable for models -- baskets, hay bales, wheelbarrows, etc.

Also, plastic "gutter guard" is great for fences....

We also have heard the sad news of the death of Christian Hess.

Christian Hess was born in 1913 in Chicago, and passed away on October 25, 1988.

He originally began as a woodcarver, and had his own company, Hess Engineering, which made building decorations (sconces, etc.). He had some art training at the Chicago Art Institute.

In 1950, he sculpted his first model for Breyer, the #57 Western Horse. The last model he completed was #435 Secretariat. During the 37 years that separated these two models, Christian Hess sculpted every model animal (including the wildlife animals) produced by Breyer except for the Maureen Love horses (the H-R copies) and the recent Artist Series horses. His name is carved into several Breyer models, including the 5-Gaiter, Shetland, and Shire.

Mr. Hess was also a mold maker for Breyer; he or his son Bud created the molds for every one of the Breyer models, even if they were not his own sculptures.

In addition to his work for Breyer, Mr. Hess did the original "Wonder Horse" model (the large "springy" riding horses).

He is survived by his wife of 50 years, Elizabeth, and their four children.

We will all miss the work of Christian Hess, but his art will live on for many years in collections throughout the world.

CHEAP THRILLS

Send submissions to: Gale Good, 1359 Sherrill, Anaheim, CA 92804

You may have wondered what happened to Cheap Thrills last issue. No? Well tough. You're going to find out anyway. It was the case of the missing column. After it was typed, it went missing. And I made the mistake of erasing the document from the disk before it went into the mail. Enough excuses. We need more write-ups or I'll bore you with mine. (And I don't get out much anymore to hunt for new models.)

Before I drone on about my latest CHEAP thrill, please note that this column is shorter this time because I've included a write-up on all the Breyers issued in 1988 and where you can get them. There was a unprecedented 62 new models/colors!! The distributor list includes address, phone numbers where applicable, and whether they take credit cards. This list maybe of interest to new (and old) collectors who are not familiar with the different distributing houses. When contacting them, please tell them you heard about them in THE MODEL RAG!

Okay, here is my latest find. Actually it was my father's. He was walking back to his car with a nice palomino Western Horse (complete with snap saddle) when a lady asked him if he collected horses. Her father-in-law had passed away and had a few models that the children had bought him which she was willing to give to another collector. I waited a week and a half on pins and needles before they brought the horses over.

Most were Japans or medal, wooden, or stone horses but there were a few highlights. Nine Hagen-Renakers including a bay 8" Honora and 6" white Zara; a porcelain Black Beauty from Franklin Mint which I already have; and a lovely Hartland Mustang in walnut complete with pads on the bottoms of the hooves and tail. Several of the Japans had nice detailing too. Of all the 50 pieces, I only had 6. And can you believe it, there was only one Breyer--a glossy bay FAF. I took them into my den where most of my collection resides and they were amazed. Of course, I always tell people there are others who have many more than I (poor Karen Grimm is used as an example all the time with her 3500+ herd of models.) This is the second small collection I've been given. Heather tells me they come in threes so here's hoping.

I like to remind you to mention your collecting when talking to hobby enthusiasts of other types. At a meeting of my British media group, I discovered another model horse collector. Even people with real horses sometimes have collections. Ask if the subject comes up. And carry a photo of your collection around with you. That can simulate model conversation too.

REVIEW OF THE BREYER SIGNING PARTY/MODEL HORSE FAIRE
How to Go Insane with A Little Help from Your Friends

by Gale Good

The planning of this year's signing party at Black Horse Ranch began months before the actual date of September 24th. A new, umpteen square foot building was constructed with the entire upper floor housing the 3500 plus collection of owner Karen Grimm. Several of us (Heather, Lani, Cheryl, Sheryl and me) spent nearly every weekend for the preceding month dusting, moving, tagging, pricing and worrying. Invitations were sent out to several hundred people, many who have never met other collectors. One woman dragged her husband along to prove to him that she wasn't crazy--there were other adults involved with this hobby.

Last year's event had over a hundred people (probably a whole lot more but we run out of sign-up sheets). This year nearly two hundred and fifty with collectors attended with some coming from Northern California, Arizona and even Texas and Connecticut (although I must confess the last one heard about the signing party while visiting relatives here in California).

Besides new, special and discontinued Breyers for Pete Stone to sign, there were the tours of both the model collection and the real Thoroughbreds of BHR, a special t-shirt design of the 1988 Limited Edition Special Breezin' Dixie to commemorate the occasion (there may still be some left--contact BHR), food (which I never saw because we were so busy selling--so busy, in fact, that we didn't even have time to take photos) and plenty of model talk.

A knowledgeable staff of fellow model collectors was recruited (threatened, bribed, coerced, compelled--just kidding Karen). A signing party special run from Breyer was available to the attendees. Nearly twenty other collectors were also invited to come and sell their models, tack, and other related items.

All-in-all, it was four hours of concentrated fun and you're looking forward to doing it again next year. (What are you nuts?!)

Honest-to-God quote from the Faire:

When finding out my friend, Bea, who had graciously agreed to help (Boy, she didn't know what she was getting into, did she?), didn't collect model horses, another collector asked, "What are you weird?"

(Yes, now you know. We're the normal ones. Everyone else is... different. Speaking of different: We MISS YOU, Kay!)

Hardlands are coming to California - HLOA (Hardland Lovers of America) is holding a show in Napa, CA, on July 29, 1989. The So. Cal contingent is insisting on a wine tour the next day! Tina English and Paola Groeber are planning to come. For more info, send SASE to Debbie Buckler, 1294 Hagen Rd., Napa, CA 94558.

The Breyer "polled cows" are out! Bendleys, Black Horse Ranch, and Small World all carry them - check with them for prices. Also - Small World mentioned a "genetically confused" cow - apparently a Holstein, but with the horns turned at the angle of a different breed. Limited supply - check with them.

Cheap models! Check out the December Sale at Horses International!! Some of the choice items include: Breezing Dixie for $13.60, and Little Bits at $4.12 each!! Given the increase in prices from Breyer - this is truly a great savings! Also, they still have MANY special runs available - the Clydesdales, Foundation Stallion, Running Mare & Foal, Haflinger to name a few. Horses International, PO Box 22163, Phoenix, AZ 85028.

Black Horse Ranch will be receiving the overrun of the JAH "Running Stallion." These will be available on a lottery basis - to participate, send a letter marked "Running Stallion" containing an SASE to Karen Grimm, Black Horse Ranch, 10400 Johanna Ave, Shadow Hills, CA 91040. Karen doesn't know how many models she will be receiving, so she will hold a drawing for the horses. You will be notified when the models come in.

Franklin Mint has a new model; a trotting "Misty." This is the fourth model in their series of horses, and is priced around $150.00. Write to Franklin Mint for further details: Franklin Center, PA 19091.

Horse Illustrated has advertised another sculpture from Franklin Mint: a girl in riding habit petting a horse. Check with Horse Illustrated for more info.

Lenox has a new model, an Arabian in black for around $150.00. Check with Gale Good for an address: 1359 Sherrill, Anaheim, CA 92804.
