Your faithful editor at work.
A mind is a terrible thing to waste.

Volume 3, Number 5

October/November 1989

Single Issue: $3.25

IT'S TIME FOR OUR FIRST EVER RAG RODENT REVIEW!!

Here is our stunning
of K. Maestas, who writes:

"One of the latest additions to Double Diamond Ranch.
Should be excellent in Western Performance with a low head set for pleasure classes.
So far he has been great in trail! A little problem in roping - first he ate the rope and then went for the calf. Plus bit the rider after dismounting."
Kathy doesn't tell us
his name...Diamond
Williard, perhaps!

..... Inside This Issue...

A new column - The Rag Bag...The latest on what Breyer models may not be around next year...And, our special, albeit unintentional, "Salute to Rodents" feature - check the Drivel Column for more details.

About The Model Rag...

The Model Rag was established in 1987 by collectors for collectors. The format was developed based on ideas from many people actively involved in all aspects of the hobby, and is flexible to the changing needs of our readers.

In order to allow you to more easily locate the information that you are most interested in, The Model Rag is divided into separate sections:

For Sale

Wanted

Miscellaneous (repainting and tack services, clubs, personals, etc.)

Showtime

"People, Places & Things" (to fill you in on the people, places and things that make this hobby special)

"The Litterbox" (our commentary section, where you can get the latest information on what's new from the manufacturers, special runs, and who doing what to whom).

We offer articles on various topics of interest to the hobby, and also have several reoccurring columns, such as Cheap Thrills, Madeline's Newsletter, and Laurie's Drivel Column (O.K., we know the Drivel Column is a little, um... different, but it grows on you! Besides, what other model horse publication offers a column that even non-hobbyists look forward to reading!)

Subscriptions

$15.00 for one year (6 issues); Trial Issue: $3.25. FURTHER SALES FROM ARABIAN EMPIRE/EMPIRE LIMITED! Well, the auction didn't go over so well, but, with Julie Froelich and Laurie Jensen holding auctions, what did I expect! I have several more beautiful models for sale, with much regret, but Tidal Wave needs to eat! Send SASE with all correspondence to: Kimberley Harvey, 26035 Moulton #188, Laguna Hills, CA 92653. Thanks to all who bought from my first list! It's helped a lot! See last TMR for o.f. horses!

UNNAMED FRIESIAN: Or, you may know him as "Night Raven" from Laurie Jensen's sale list back in March. This lovely ebony stallion is remade to a high, spirited trot from the 5-Gaiter - and what improvements! First show out he was second in a tough Other Purebreds class! He's going to go far for the Friesian enthusiast, or someone who wants something different. $325.

CHEAP THRILLS: I HATE to sell this one, and may change my mind. He's a Stretch Morgan repainted/haired a brilliant palomino tobiano NSH stallion. Such expression and fire in his face! His luxurious white mohair mane and tail adds to his elegance. A consistent live show winner. $150.

RM AKHTAAL: Yes, this PAS r/r/h to a walking bay stallion by Julie Froelich is still available. He is really such a nice horse, can't understand why he didn't sell on the first list! He is an older Froelich, but still competitive. Does very well as a NSH stallion. $85.

ZIGICH: Another Laurie Jensen, in fact, her first dapple grey. This fellow is personality PLUS and was used extensively in her advertisements. Shows great as an Andalusian mix gelding. He's the Hartland 11" stallion remade with his head thrown up and an INCREDIBLY self-satisfied look on his face. $70.

NITE LUV: She's kept hanging around here, although I don't know why! A PAM with leg flaw corrected, she has been repainted only by Linda Watson-McCormick to a rich, chocolate black bay with golden highlights and dappling. $45.

TEMPETE: A Chris Cook creation, this lovely live show Grand Champion has also kept hanging around at the stable and I don't have time for her! She's a Johar r/r/h to a medium/dark dapple grey in a flying canter. Her recently replaced white mohair mane and tail really set her apart. Open your heart to this lovely lady and she will WIN for you! $160.

AE HARLEQUIN: A consistent winner in photo showing, and champion for his past two owners, this fellow, previously known as Turbo, is a SB Weanling with extensive remaking and sculpting by Lynne Baum to turn him into an extremely handsome and exotic NSH colt. His rich bay tobiano coloring, and wonderful thread mane and tail really attract attention. $85.

AYSAYN: Although I have some interest in this stallion, he's back on the list again in case it falls through. He is a beautifully remade PAS by Lynne Baum to a stretchy black Arabian stallion. Mold faults mostly corrected (pasterns, face, etc.). Slight flaw on the left side of the neck not covered by mane - an attempt to sculpt muscling, I think. Easy to correct. Wins live! $150.

E.L. WINTER IN VIENNA: Classic Keen (I think - the cantering one) with anatomical corrections and r/r/h by me to a flea-bitten grey Lipizzan/TB cross mare. Has been placing in live shows! Needs someone who can campaign her in photo, too. $40

For Sale: All prices are postage-paid, models sent first class or UPS - please specify. All models are from the 70's and back. If prices seem too high, make offer. No reasonable offer refused. The Hobby Horse News

One Of The Best Model Horse Publications

It was one year ago when we decided there was a need for a full-size, professionally printed model horse magazine. It took a lot of hard work, but last December our first issue was printed. Today, six issues later, we are printing 600 copies! We would like to thank all of you who have supported us in our first year!

If you don't receive The Hobby Horse News, you don't know what you're missing! Each issue is jam-packed (approximately fifty-six 8-1/2" x 11" pages) with informative articles, regular columns by some of the top showmen, and plenty of clear, quality photographs—usually more than 40! Oh yes, don't forget the ads...show ads, for sale ads, and a real "classified" classified section—no more searching through all the classifieds for the item you seek!

On top of all this, The Hobby Horse News is designed by graphic experts (my husband and me). We are printed by a commercial printer, and strive to publish the best-looking magazine we can. You won't find yourself straining your eyes to read faded-out copy, and you will not believe the quality of our photographs! And get this...it's on time! What more could you ask for?

But don't take our word for it!

Listen to what our readers have told us:

"I am very (that's VERY) impressed with THHN—the hobby will benefit from such a great magazine!"—Lee Francis, Dixie Tack

"I got the last issue of THHN and I LOVE it!!! It's just fabulous! Keep up the great work...the hobby is really indebted to you for such a great publication!"—Sarah Minkiewicz, top remake artist

"Thank you very much for the sample issue of your absolutely wonderful magazine! It is the best model publication I've ever seen, without any question...Let me give you a grand round of applause for this dream come true!"—Janet Piercy, The World of Model Horses

Still not convinced?

Well, send for your sample issue today to see for yourself why everyone's talking about The Hobby Horse News!

Sample Issue: $3 US, $4 Canada and Mexico, $5 any other country
Full-Year Subscription (6 issues): $16 US, $22 Canada and Mexico, $40 any other country Payment must be in US funds drawn on a US bank.

Are you ready??

It will be here before you know it!

Yes, it's true - the TWO DAY 1990 Shining Aspen Live Show is coming your way on April 28 & 29, 1990! This show will be BIGGER and BETTER (if that's possible!) than last year, with two Divisions (OF & RR), a wide variety of classes, a special Fantasy class, Novice classes, Breyer Collector's Class (and - hopefully - sponsorship!), great awards, raffles, door prizes, fun, and friends.

Last year's show drew the largest turnout Washington State has ever seen at a live show; 38 entrants! We also had the largest number of Novices to date - most of whom did very well in the regular classes! Entrants came from California, Oregon, Washington, and Canada - a truly diverse group!!

It is not too early to begin planning to attend the 1990 Shining Aspen Live Show - send LSASE with 2 stamps for your show packet to:

CHEAP THRILLS

Send submissions to: Gale Good, 1359 Sherrill, Anaheim, CA 92804

Linda Sturhann from New York had a particularly good H-R find: Three years ago, I saw two china cougars at a garage sale in northern New Jersey. It was the end of the day and everyone, myself included, were a bit tired, crabby and eager for the day to end. The cougars were fairly interesting, but I didn't want to pay the $10 for the pair because the tail of the standing cat was badly repaired. With 450 horses standing on shelves in my living room, I really didn't need something else to dust. As I started to leave, the man running the sale asked me to make him an offer. With little enthusiasm, I offered $1 a piece. To my shock, he agreed. Fine. I took the cougars home and they collected dust on my shelves. After moving to the Catskill Mountains in New York, I was searching for a mascot for a live show and came across the cougars stuffed in a box of knickknacks. Since Catskill in Dutch means Cat Creek, I thought they would be perfect. The cougars caused quite a stir as they were very old Hagen-Renakers and still have the Monrovia stickers. I could not believe the estimates of their worth ran between $250 to $500 for the pair. I don't know if that is an accurate figure, but even if they are worth $50, it's still quite a difference from what I paid! Now I'm glad the man at the garage sale was tired enough to want to "get rid of all the junk". (Fantastic, Linda! I know a couple of people who collect the HR animal figures who will be very envious of your find.--Gale)

Old eagle-eyed Lani Keller lucked upon several old Breyers in near perfect condition recently at only $12 each. Two of the rarer ones were the glossy dapple grey Clydesdale stallion and a beautiful glossy dark palomino fighting stallion.

Heather Wells, ye-ole-litterbox editor, must regularly bribe the lady of fortune (and eat lots of carrots). She found another red eyed glossy alabaster Mustang (Breyer also made this mold with black eyes) and a Western Pony with a plastic drape that once held a cuticle set. (I remember seeing this for sale in the Sears catalogs many, many years ago. Yes, they even had Breyers when I was a child.--Gale)

Sue Lehman's husband, Dave, brought joy to her heart when he discovered a Breyer woodgrain Shetland Pony for a mere $5. What a deal!! It's always nice to see a collector's family who is supportive of the hobby.

Next issue will have the 1989 Breyer Model Horse year end production list with distributor's addresses for on special runs. The Special Runs List will continue in the issue following that one.

(With added editorial comments by Kay...Hee!)

"DRIVEN TO DRIVEL"

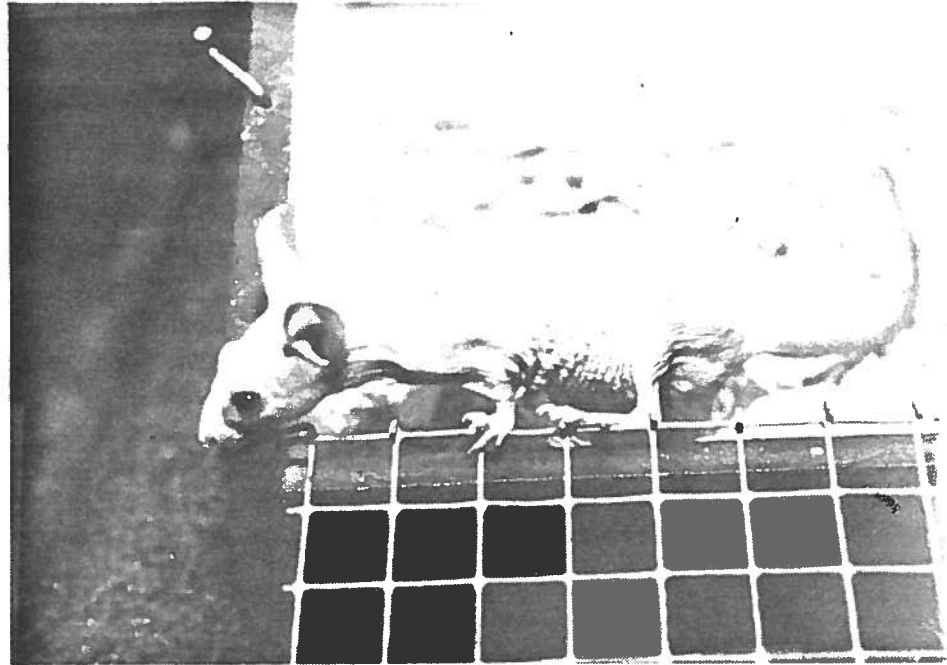

(Existence of this column is denied by Laurie Jensen...)

(Existence of Laurie Jensen is denied by most who know her...)

You guys are SO weird.

The things that you have been sending me:

1) Photo of NUDE MOUSE. Sheesh. I opened it during lunch and almost did my infamous "cat with a hairball" imitation ("KAK! KAK!"). (Or your not-quite-as infamous "Bill-the-Cat" imitation: "ACK! ACK!" "Quick, get a sponge mop...he's drooling...") (Thanks to Denise Deen!)

2) Photo of MOUSE WITH HAIR in Appaloosa pattern. An improvement (Relatively speaking). (Not Shown). (Also an improvement, relatively speaking...)

3) A mouse and rat brochure about all kinds of mice (did you know that they show FRIZZIE MICE!??) (Did you care? Do you care now?) And your hairless mouse will be penalized if it has pimples. A vivid thought. (What is - a hairless mouse with pimples, or someone penalizing a hairless mouse for having pimples? I mean, really, isn't it already bad enough being a hairless mouse with pimples? Do they really feel the NEED to PUNISH this wretched creature, just because he has a skin condition? Sheesh...) I wonder if they break out on the day of the prom? Do they make Clearasel for mice? Stri-dex medicated bedding...I know, I am a sick person.

4) (Kay here - I also had a MOUSE/RAT related item sent to me...actually TWO of them. First, the charming cover photo ("RAT ILLUSTRATED?") sent in by Kathy Maestas. Secondly, I was talking to Sheryl Leisure, and she mentioned that she had a picture of her (late) rat, Snickers that would seem to fit right in with our typical bizarre format (interestingly enough, giving our seemingly endless fascination with things dead and stuffed, this picture was taken before Snickers was "dearly departed"; i.e. prior to her becoming a "late rat."). It seems Snickers liked to crawl around on Sheryl's horse shelves, and Sheryl managed to snap a shot of Snickers being "ridden" by one of the Breyer riders! (See next page...)

When I got the drivel this month, I mentioned to Laurie that it was odd that we have been receiving all these unsolicited rodent items, WITHOUT WARNING. We didn't remember asking for any rat or mouse trivia during the last issue, so we have determined that it all boils down to one of two possible reasons. EITHER...

- A. We are unknowingly putting some sort of subliminal messages in the drivel column causing all of you to think of a "Disgusting Critter of the Issue," and forcing you to send us articles, photos, and advertising notices dealing the beast in question. OR...
- B. This is a conspiracy by the drivel-reading public, who get together in the dark of night, and say things like, "Hey! Let's send Laurie and Kay some interesting (disgusting critter's name here) facts and photos and see if they get suspicious!" And then you laugh as we sit around scratching our heads, saying, "I don't remember mentioning these (disgusting critter's name here) in the last column, do you?" But enough of this...back to the normal (or abnormal?) drivel...

The odds are eight-to-nun in pious Irish pony races

Outsider Bright Star eclipsed Chastity's Delight and Holy Moses on Sunday when eight nuns swapped their habits for racing silks to race ponies in Trim, Ireland.

Chastity's Delight, favorite in the second International Nun Run, was ridden by Sister Siohghan O'Rourke — a former model with a penchant for motorcycles and sky diving.

But she finished among the also rans as local nun Sister Olive Irwin romped home in the one-mile charity race around a farmer's field on the banks of the River Boyne.

Nuns in veils eagerly sought the best odds from bookmakers but proved poor judges of form — Bright Star, a 10-1 outsider, was more than a match for the favorite.

Seven of the nuns were Roman Catholic.

The lone Protestant, Sister Virginia from West London, said before starting on Holy Moses:

"We have to be totally mad to do this. I feel as if the entire future of the Anglican Church will stand or fall on the result."

Sister Celia Doyle said she felt safer crossing crocodile-infested waters near her Sierra Leone mission than riding Holy Rosary.

(Kay here, the article didn't bring up the really tragic aspect of nun racing - that it is habit forming.....I'm sorry, but somebody had to say it.)

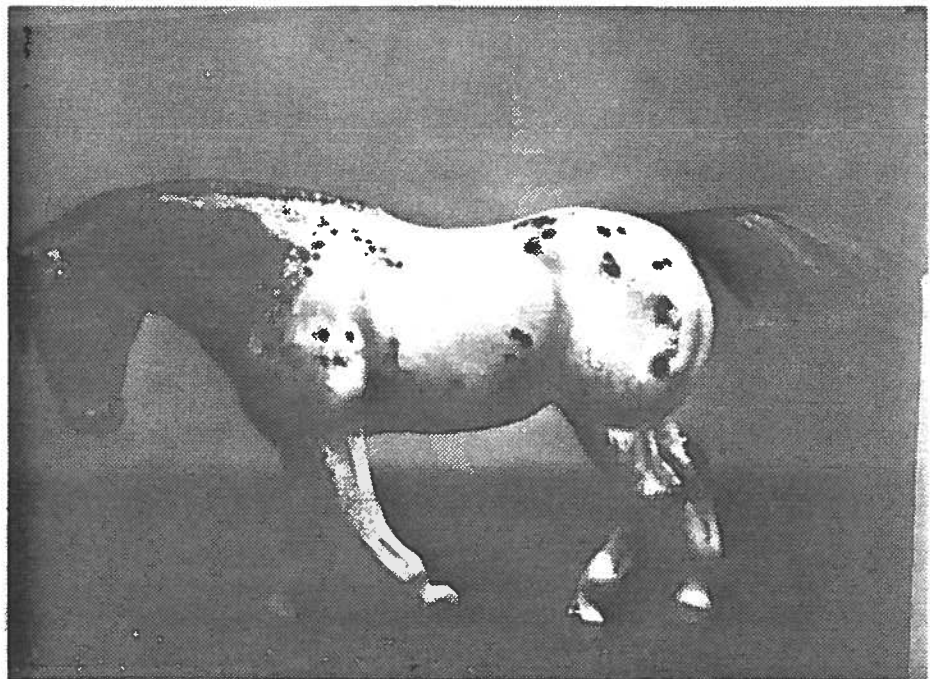

7. Christine White sent some photos:

A. BOW WOW OF THE ISSUE!! (Christine says: "I could show him as a POA-Dachshund mix..." then she goes on with some feeble excuse regarding camera angles...SURE, Christine...ha ha ha) Thanks for sharing...

(Oh...while we're on the subject of Bow Wow's, I have been asked to make a public service announcement. "We at the Model Rag would like to apologize to Corky V. for not clarifying that the Bow-Wow she sent in last issue was NOT done by her!! Corky's work is A-One Primo stuff, and definately not the Bow-Wow variety." Thank you.)

B. Tacky Lawn Ornaments - - (She says..."These poor wooden deer have been standing (?) ...for 3½ years - - every year they look worse and worse..."

(Sorry, guys...photo too dark to reproduce well, but trust me...they're pathetic...)

8. Liz Bouras sent some HIDEOUSLY GROSS AND DISGUSTING lawn decorations (oops - photos, I mean. Of the decorations.) BUT! I can't find them presently...but have no fear - I will unearth them.. (I guess that we SHOULD have fear, then...)

9. SOMEBODY sent a "SLUGSTOCK" ad -- a concert for homeless people. A noble cause, but check out the bands:

The Bush Pigs
Psychosonic
What's In The Sink (my personal favorite!)
The Underground
etc...

10. A comment from Karen B. of Stockton, CA: "You guys (gals? women? perverts?) are REALLY WEIRD! HA!" What a gal (woman? pervert?) Thanks for sharing. Anyway, she goes on about songs kids sing...one is sung to "Jingle Bells" tune: Santa Claus, Santa Claus/ You are much too fat/ I was sleeping peacefully/ and now my bed is flat..." Now I'm going to ask a dumb question - why is her bed flat? I guess I am a pervert (woman? gal?) Maybe her bed was under the chimney when - ah, heck. I'm tired of thinking about it... (And while we're on the subject - remember "Gobs and gobs of greasy, grimy gopher guts...?") (Actually, I had let that thought slip momentarily...I apologize...) Kay! (What?!) Had any "Gallon O'Gizzards" from The Colonel lately? (No, it's not Gizzard Season out here...it is Colonel Season, however...hummm...) Did you know that Julie F's dog (one of them) seems to be into the "Bucket-o-Bats" scene...? (No, I hadn't realized that, although I must admit that it will probably not influence my Gizzard or Bat buying habits either way.)

11. News Flash - Jim Hensen is going to be creating the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles...puppets? Costumes? (For a movie...) Stay tuned.

12. If any of you heard a primal scream in Florida on September 1st it was Suzanne B. She says, "I'll try to remember (to scream)...assuming you're serious - sometimes it's hard to tell!" Ha Ha! You are a silly person. We WERE KIDDING. Ha ha ha ha ha. Did anyone else scream? If you did, tell me if anything happened (like if they hauled you away).

12½. Well, I still can't find Liz B's ugly lawn ornament pix. Shoot.

13. Alright. Normally I try (or at least feign trying) to not use the full names of people who send me silly stuff, unless I think (Do you think?) they either deserve it or I think they don't care...but DAPHNE AND DUNCAN MACPHERSON sent me something that only DAPHNE AND DUNCAN MACPHERSON WHO LIVE IN WASHINGTON would dare to send me. DAPHNE AND DUNCAN sent me a can of what Daphne called "snacks." She says that it was Duncan's fault that she sent them to me. I also get the idea that LINDA WATSON MCCORMICK was also involved. All you people sent me this can of snacks, wrapped in brown paper...(my first warning). I opened the package (You fool!) and LO! It was

About Ranch-Grown Slugs...

The temperate, sometimes soggy Pacific Northwest was the ideal place for Slug Ranching to get its start — the lowly slug (a gastropod of the family Limacidae) seems to thrive on the climate here.

With only a small government grant and a big dream for the future, the folks at Slyme Tyme Ltd. built their Ranch-Grown Slug business very slowly (what else would you expect from slugs?)

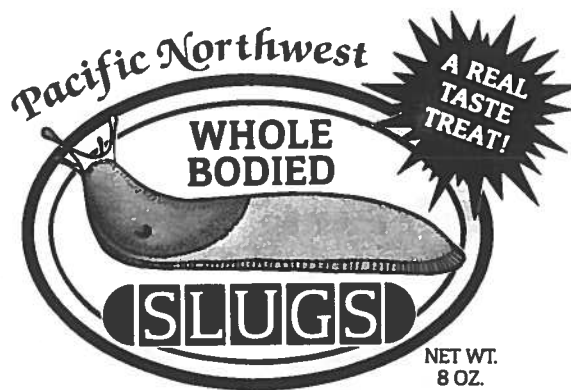

Try them...you'll like them!

With Garlic & Herbs
In Natural Juices

It's Escargot, without the work!

Ranch-grown Slugs with Garlic & Herbs are packaged in their natural juices — prime filets for your enjoyment.

DO NOT ADD SALT!

The special flavor of Escargot can be yours without all of the work of digging those little critters out of their shells.

Send for our free recipe pamphlet — please add $3 for postage and handling.

We're always on the lookout for new ways to serve Ranch-grown Slugs — and we'd like to hear from you!

I was instructed by the accompanying letter to sample the snacks, and report the "results" (dry heaves, perhaps?) in The Rag...! (The "Gallopig Gourmet" takes on a whole new meaning here...) So, the nice person that I am, (not the term I would have used...) I decided to actually open the can...I mean...the darned thing still had the $3.75 price tag on it and I'd hate wasting it, so...I mixed myself a nice, stiff, germicidal drink (only one?) and opened up the can with every intention of gagging down (or at least mouthing) one of the canned slugs. I even had a little stack of Ritz crackers ready for the slugs to sit on.

I was all fired up and I opened the can and was disappointed to find TOMATO SAUCE! What a let-down!! FRAUD! FRAUD!! (Just think what those poor people who thought they were getting tomato sauce were saying...) I looked at the label again, and in microscopic letters it states, "actual contents listed under this label." Duped again. I should be getting used to it by now, big dummy that I am.

14. C. White sent a letter about a scam where they sell cans that say there are slugs in them, but there aren't really.

I'm sure that there's more here that you people have sent me (I'm trying to ignore it...) NAH. Saved for next time.

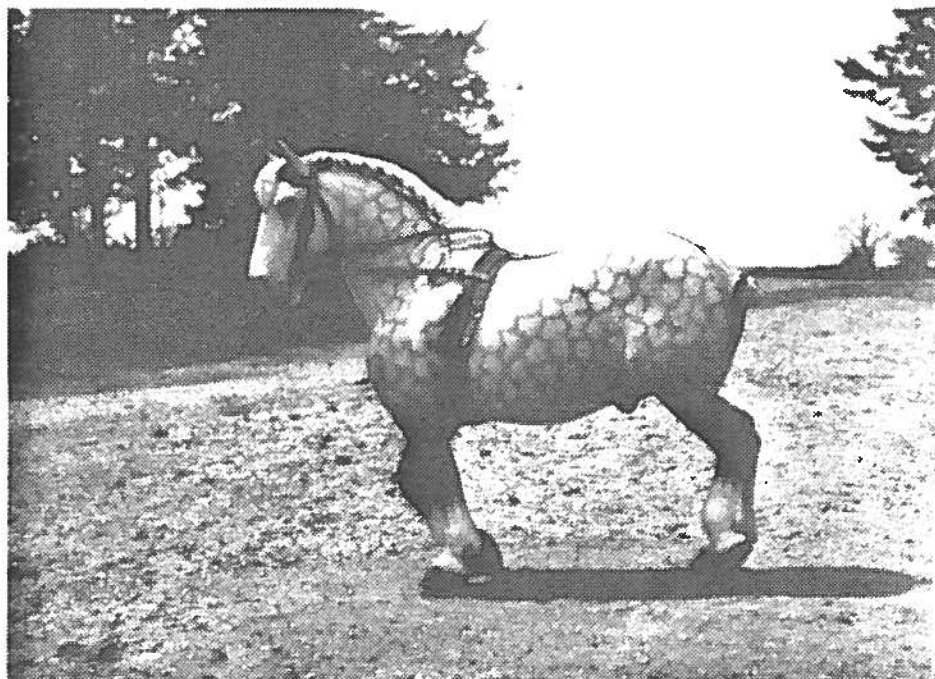

Was talking to Julie F. on the phone today and we somehow got onto the subject of how everyone has a "Mandatory Ugly Chair" in their living room. YOU know the chair that I'm referring to... (I know YOUR chair that you're referring to...) The big ugly one with places where the kids (or dogs...or mice) (back to the RODENT theme, I see...) can pull the stuffing out and strew it about the place? (Julie says that it's unavoidable: "Death, Taxes and Ugly Chairs.") The Mandatory Ugly Chair in my home happens to be stuffed with what appears to be (when strewn about) Kitty Cat. (So, it's kind of like Felix the Cat's chair? Or Felix's the Chair's cat, as the case may be...You know, the little folding lawn chair that he used to take out of his Magic Bag - don't you wish you had one of those!) So when guests enter my home, they have a temporary (temporary?) look of disgust at what appears to be a cat run over by a rotary mower in my living room (a nice decorating touch...) until I explain that the fur came from the "M.U.C.". (What, does the look of disgust then become PERMANENT?) Send photos or description of YOUR Mandatory Ugly Chair to me, Laurie Jensen, addy elsewhere, Okay? Also any weird pets. I'm out of weird pets again, I think.

By the way, if you send me any more canned "snacks," please don't disappoint me.

Bye till next time - Your slave, Laurie.

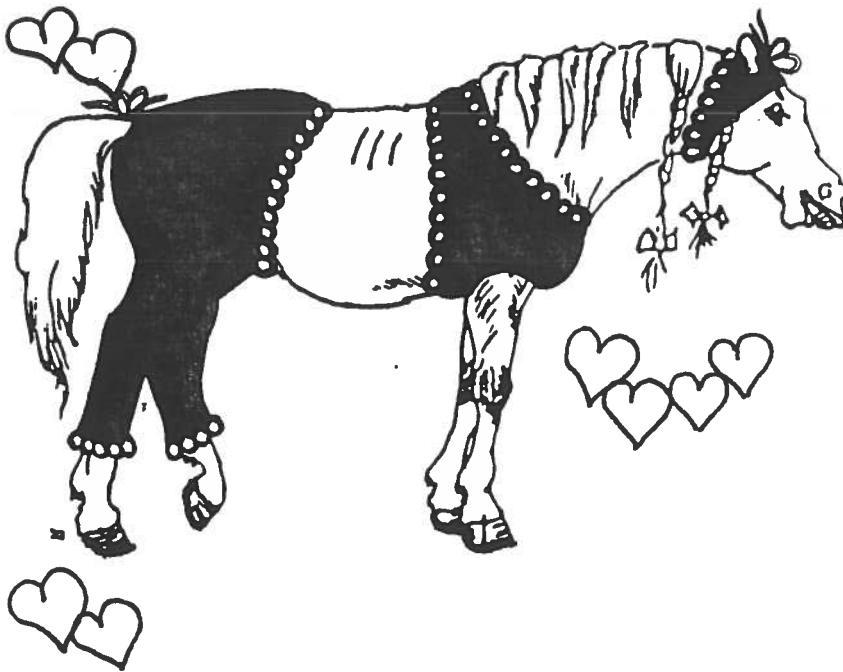

P.S. I almost forgot! I guess DAPHNE AND DUNCAN are going to come to California Live! Hope everyone brings their raincoats and goggles when we all go out for dinner! (Don't let Darian B. into any restaurant that serves peas, by the way...) Right, Tina? Hee. Tina E. compared out little food foray into Napa to a "Gremlin Feeding Frenzy..." and it wasn't even after midnight! Oh - also heard that Linda W-McC and buddies will be coming down! California Live. Be there or be not there. Aloha!

(Kay here - Madeline's column was inadvertently omitted from the last issue - mucho apologies - but here is the column that should have been run in the Aug/Sept edition.)

Well, HELLO!!

Have to get into the swing of things, now that summer is here, so here I am with my fashion bathing suit! Actually, I wouldn't mind at all to feel a little brave and go after those hunks of stallions in their bathing briefs in the last issue!! So will the owners of those stallions please write me and send me a dozen poster size pin-ups!! I am so in love with that Naoto Nisei!! And speaking of Ardith and Corky, I received a wonderful letter and picture from Corky about a cute and fuzzy hunk (move over Naoto!). His name is "Wysiwyg" which stand for "What you see is what you get" and to describe him accurately would not do him justice but I will try. He's a lovely light caramel color with a sparkle in his eye, smiley face, long soft "rabbit fur" mane and tail and a garland around his neck. Thanks for the picture Corky!! And thanks for taking the photo Ardith!

Live shows coming up for the summer season sounds like a lot of fun! I hope all you crazy model horse showers can get to at least one of them. I plan on going to all the local ones, (but unfortunately won't be able to make it to the Napa Hartland Show! Boo Hoo!) then take a trip to Washington State Live Show in Sept. to see Laura Pervier and drive on over to the east side to visit my human's sister in Pullman and her retired horse Ranger. Then on down to Grass Valley, CA to visit husband Rick's parents (and little-blue-thing-Glenn's grandparents) where we hope to leave Glenn there for a couple of weeks. Ah, a blessed relief! In October, a lovely weekend at the California Live! show in Riverside and that should just about take care of the exciting shows for the year. Next year, we are planning to take a trip to the beautiful country of Canada for Thunderbird International!!

Next two pages was something that came to mind and one of those funny experiences. I hope you enjoy it, and if any of you out there have had an exciting adventure, please share it with me! I love getting mail!!

(P.S. Where can I adopt some finger Nonnee Monsters?)

DON'T SNEEZE!! - by madeline

Have you ever worked with rabbit skins? If not, then this article is for all those with an odd sense of humor to try!! I'm not saying that this article has any humor, but I will sure try so that you won't turn the page! I came across this idea when my human was making covers for ten Peruvian Paso sets. So I asked her: "What would be a good source of fabric for this cover?" Something fuzzy and black (no, Laurie J., not THAT). Only thing that she could think of, that was anywhere near what she had in mind was rabbit. So she "ran" (er drive...its a half hour drive) over to Tandy Leather and picked up a couple of skins. The fur was actually a little too long but she thought she could fix that. At least both matched, and looked like it will do fine.

Okay, so let's go over this project step by step, giving [helpful] hints on how to get this stuff to work.

1. felt marker
2. scissors (although not really necessary)
3. razor blade
4. a large clean table
5. plastic cutting board, if available, and last but not least...
6. very important - have a vacuum nearby. The canister type with a small attachment at the end. Good for house-cleaning, drapes, the cat, etc.

Lay out your skin (the skin of the rabbit, not your own), fuzzy side down. Watch where your "grain" is, because the fur tends to run down to the tail and then runs down toward the sides. Avoid any of the bad areas, like cowlicks as they will not make those pieces look nice, unless you like cowlicks (wet, sloppy licks from cows?) and think it would add a nice touch to your costume or project. In the sets that she was doing, it wouldn't look nice. Draw, or trace a pattern, with your felt pen, onto the skin. Take your blade (NOT the scissors) and cut down your lines, being very careful not to cut the fur, only the skin. Now the fun part. This is when she encountered a small problem: tons of unwanted hair (and it wasn't on her legs) all over her nice clean table. After cutting out all your pieces, you probably now have lots of loose fur just waiting for you to sneeze and get all over the place! So get out your handy dandy vacuum and suck up all that fur, even the loose fur on the pieces.

Be very careful not to suck up your piece of fur that you just cut up. My human did that once. Had to take the vacuum out to the trash can, empty out the bag to retrieve that piece of fur that she needed!! So glad it wasn't one of those "Rainbow" vacuums where it uses water! Oh bay, what fun, because not only were there dust, dirt, lint, and dead bugs in that bag, but lots of loose fur (also found a dog). AAAHHHCHOOOOOO!! Good, she found the piece, although not in the greatest shape. Luckily she didn't sneeze on the fur piece (but little-blue-thing-Glenn got in the way) so was able to salvage it.

Okay, so after putting the vacuum back together and hauling it back into the house, she finished cleaning up the loose fur on the table.

All the pieces cut out, she discovered that the fur on each piece is a little too long to be "realistic" (whatever that means, huh L.J.?). So get out another very sharp blade, it's now time to trim the fur. Remember that tool on commercials for trimming hair? Well, this is what we are going to do! (aren't we excited!) Take out your blade, slant it backwards and lightly trim in a see-sawing type motion going down with the grain of the fur. Trim from the side edges going inwards. Start from the top of the rabbit piece and go down to the bottom, until you have the right length. Then get out that vacuum again! Good ole vacuums, what would all the housewives do without them! (huh, Sue Rowe?)

Go to the next piece and do each piece carefully and trim a little at a time. Do not rush, do not trim a lot at a time. You could end up with a lot of chunks. And then you'll have to cut out another piece! It doesn't take much brains (if you know what slugs are, you can do this), but do be careful as you'll be working with a sharp tool. And then do whatever else you want to do with the pieces. My human is attempting the art of sewing them together!! Now for all those reading this, if it made any sense, and you understand it, then good luck and enjoy your talent with working with rabbit skins!!

Note to Lee Francis - if you really believe that I have a book called, "How to Take Over the World With Little Bits," then I have some swamp land in Florida to sell you!! Although it is a neat idea, huh Doris Rau?

Note to Mair Dodd - I hear Nonnee has family? What is this address so that I might be able to acquire some? MONEE?? Geesh, how scary. I'm looking forward to seeing you in September on our way up to Washington State Live SHow! By the way, how's the family?

Not to crazy Jean Derench - the BJB photo show series are the greatest in the world!! Thanks for putting up with me these last two years, for boarding my critters and even supporting the cattle by having cattle classes!!

Note to Mistress of the Dark Drivel Column - you may have survived WRC but the rest of us need psychiatrists. It certainly was a GREAT show. THANKS!! And, yes, you are weird. Do you have a definition of Kay's new term, "moola-intensive"?

Note to our High Priestess of Advertising - GREAT new layout of the Rag! I PROMISE that I won't send in any more dark photos! Keep up with your off-the-wall comments to Laurie's Drivel - she needs all the harassment she can get!

PEOPLE, PLACES & THINGS PEOPLE, PLACES & THINGS

Howdy guys and gals! Well...apologies for the tardiness of the issue this time - mea culpa. BUT...we have taken measures to put an END to this ONCE AND FOR ALL!!

PLEASE TAKE NOTE OF THE CHANGE IN ADVERTISING DEADLINE!!! From now on, all advertising must be in my hot little hands no later than the 20th of the month PRECEDING the issue date!! For example, all advertising for the February/March issue must be to me by JANUARY 20th.

Everyone clear on this? Sorry that I have to bump the deadline up, but since most people wait until the last possible day to send me stuff, I have to make some changes. Please note that this means I must RECEIVE your stuff by the 20th; allow yourselves enough time for the U.S. Snail to toy with your letters prior to their arrival in scenic Glen Mills.

Well, now that you all understand the latest change, I'm going to throw one more curveball at you:

ALL ADVERTISING FOR THE DECEMBER/JANUARY ISSUE MUST GET TO ME BY NOVEMBER 10th!!! I am going on vacation starting November 20th, so must have the Rag done prior to leaving. This is for the Dec/Jan issue ONLY.

STORK$NEWS!! A hearty Model Rag Congratulations to Kathleen Moody, who had a baby girl named April (or June?) (or not...). Well she had her...ummm...sometime within the past year. We think. I guess at this point it has become fairly obvious to everyone that LAURIE got the birth announcement...Should anyone wish to offer the accurate version of this story, please feel free.

MODEL DRAFT HORSE LOVERS can now order an informative 44 page book that features sections on presenting the Draft Halter Horse, decorating the mane and tail, hitches, and more. The book is called, "So You Want to Show Draft Horses," and it costs $5.00 ppd from: Draft Horse Journal, Box 670, Waverly, IA 50677

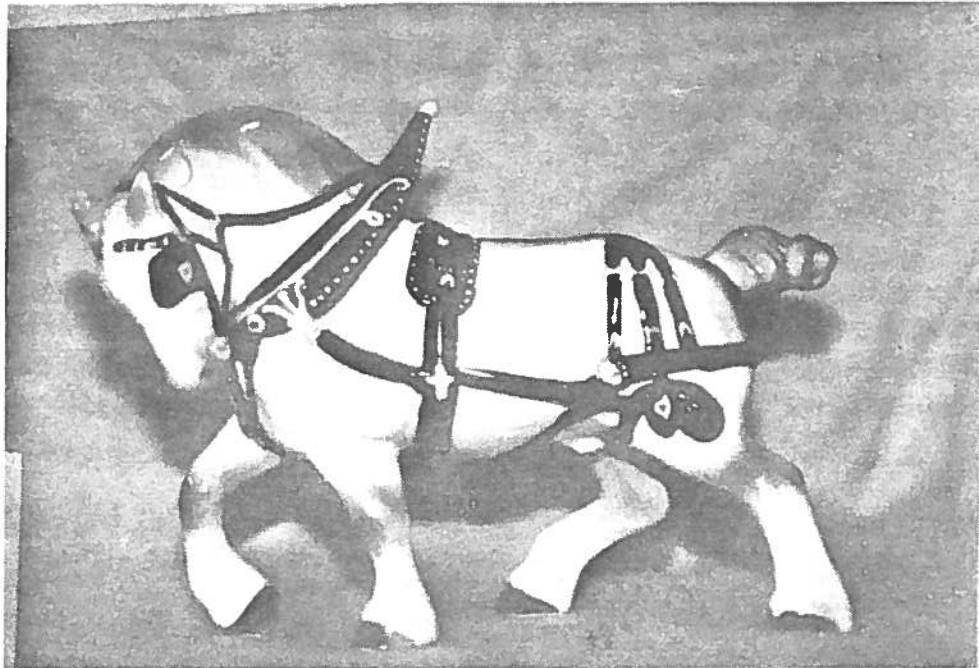

Also, Pendleton Metalworks makes really neat mailbox posts, silhouettes, weathervanes, etc., with almost any breed of horse, cattle, dogs, etc. Super! Send SASE to: The Pendletons, 3789 Hinkston Pike, Mt. Sterling, KY 40353

A video is available on "Decorating Draft Horses for Shows and Parades." It is $35.00 ppd and covers tying tails, french braiding, mane rolling, decorating mane and tails, etc. Write to Dana Nelson, 5601 E. Beeler Rd., Merritt, MI 49667

Dotty V. has suggested that we form a support group for Model Horse Widowers. Does that mean they watch football at live shows?

Hope everyone has gotten the chance to see/purchase the new Hagen-Renaker Handbook...WOW, what a super job these gals did...thank you Gayle Roller, Joan Berkwitz, and Kathleen Rose. The pictures are excellent, the text very well researched, the lay-out a bit much at first, but once you understand the basics, you have it mastered. Heather has highlighted the models in her collection, and hauls the book around with her everywhere. Even if you don't collect H-R's, if you're passing them by, they could be really great trading material...be informed!

Got a note from Liz S., who writes, "I just heard a cute little phrase that I think might just fit The Model Rag: The Persons in this magazine are silly. Any resemblance to normal or sane persons is purely coincidental." Thanks, Liz - I think you're right!

"EXCELLENT READING"

THE RAG BAG

Well, children, since you all have proven to be so proficient at sending us "stump-the-panel" questions, we've decided to provide you with your very own column! The "Rag Bag" will be used to air whatever model questions you guys come up with. If you see a question that you can answer, PLEASE help us out and send your info to Heather Wells (address elsewhere) - Don't force us to create answers at the last minute: "Yeah...it's a PA...er, uh...FA...er, uh... a Running Mare...yeah, that's the ticket." So, with further ado....

Here's last issue's question:

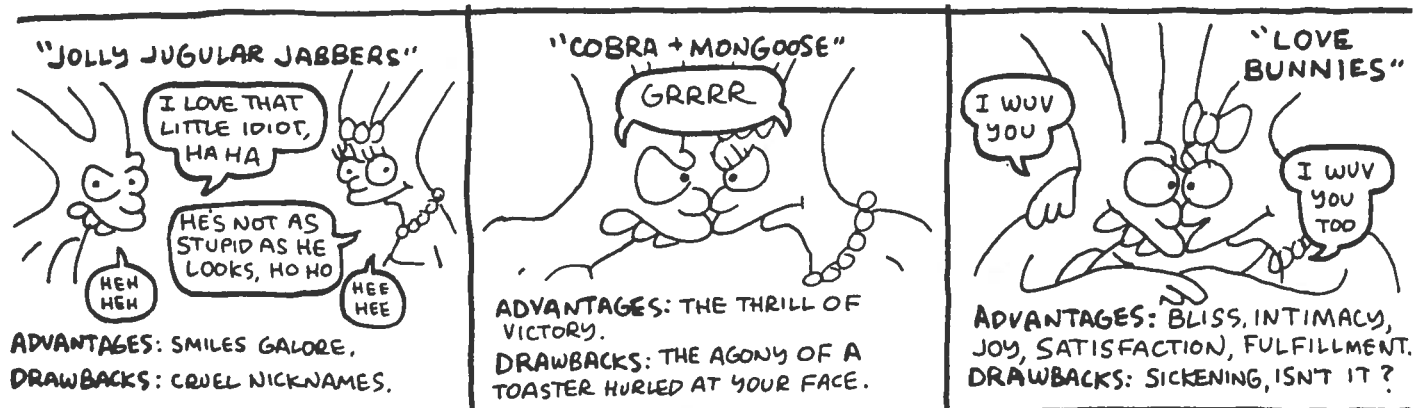

Q: What's a "chalkie?"

A: The so-called "chalkies" were produced during the oil shortage of the 1970's, when Breyer began using "re-grind" (leftover Tenite) in response to the short supply of Tenite plastic. The re-grind was a colored plastic ranging from grey to green to red to purple. As such, any models requiring white markings had to be painted white first, thus giving them a "chalky" white look. "Chalky" models include: App Perf Horse, PAM/PAF in white and dapple grey, Rearing Stallion, Longhorn, ASB Weanling, APp Indian Pony, Spanish Fighting Bull (grey horns!), TWH, Justin Morgan, and TB Mare/Foal, to name a few. Also, the 99-piece run of dapple grey Hanoverians was also chalky; the models had already been painted bay, and were repainted white prior to being finished as dapple greys. One more note: the original 1970's chalkies do NOT remake well at all! The plastic is much less flexible than ordinary Tenite.

Now for this issue's questions:

1. Q: What Breyer animals other than horses came on lamps? We know of a brown bear set and a white Poodle - any others?
2. Q: What is the difference between the "Old Mold" PAM and today's?
3. Q: Why were the Thelwell ponies not released?
4. Q: What is a test color?
5. Q: What Breyers came with the "Pearly" plastic? When were they made, and were they special runs? (Kay here - I have seen the palo Rearing Stallion, and the chestnut and palomino CQHF's with this - any others?)

Okay...let's get some answers for these people!! Share your knowledge!

Here's some scoops on the discontinueds for 1990: #65, Marguerite Henry's Justin Morgan; #66, Appaloosa/Stud Spider; #80, 83, 84, Clydesdale Stallion, Mare, and Foal; #117, Project Universe Premium Pinto American Saddlebred; #118, Prancing Arabian Mare; #702, Morgan - bay; #703, Blanket Appaloosa; #704, TWH bay; #705, Standing QH Stallion (Adios mold); #75, Texas Longhorn Bull; Britain's Riding Stable Set. But never fear - some will be coming back in new colors.

NEW for 1990:

-Khemosabi - the clay mold was in the recent issue of JAH (July/August, page two, the small photo with Debbie Moffitt).

-Pacer - this model is being retooled so that it will stand, and that will be the YEAR (1990) model.

-Saddlebred Weanling - this is also being retooled, and will be painted a Palomino Pinto, and offered as a "Commemorative Edition" of sorts.

-Another new mold - "Roemer", a well-known Warmblood. All of the above will be Traditional size.

The Christmas catalogs are out...Sears has three different sets:

1. A bay blanket Grazing Mare with a Suckling leopard Appaloosa Foal
2. Three of the USET horses painted in bay to match REAL horses from the German Equestrian Team, and
3. A dozen Stablemates, some current and a few new colors.

Penney's is offering:

1. A set of three molds: bay Morganglanz, dark dapple grey Hanoverian, and a flea-bit Halla.
2. A set of six Little Bits - all new colors - I think!

Can't remember if we mentioned in the last issue about Your Horse Source having a special run of Hartland models. Production limited to 400 pieces per color...Black Mustang, Dapple Grey Mustang, Golden Polo Pony, and a chestnut Polo Pony. When I (Heather) originally ordered the set when it first came out, the dapple grey Mustang was a semi-gloss finish - now they are matte finish - very different!

We've heard variations about the 1989 colors already: the Standing Pinto Stock Foal first came out with a white blaze - now there is no blaze on some models...found a dapple rose color PAF without the dappling - no lie - no little dappling spots! Check the packaged StableMate Swaps #5021 - instead of the chestnut, it's the black roaned color that is offered through the Sears Christmas set. If anyone finds a no dappling PAM or PAS - please let me know!

Hope everyone noticed the ad from Black Horse Ranch - a VHS video tape on all the Original Finish Breyer models. It is an excellent source for I.D.'ing all those Breyers you're not really sure of...letting your friends and family SEE what those Decorators and Woodgrains look like...a really good gift for the novice collector and a really HOT tape to drool over!
