

Designate a collector friend or someone knowledgeable about models to help relatives disperse them. Or designate every single horse to friends and relations whom you know will treasure them. I feel so sad when I think of Marney's precious horses, acquired over years, going on sale to strangers in this cold, callous way! We never know when our time is up...

Announcements

Cascade Models now offers the easy way for you to get your non-model friends & relatives to buy Breyers for you as gifts—Cascade Models WISH LIST Registry! You register with us the new '92 Breyers you want, give our instruction card to your friends & relatives, and open Breyers for Christmas! Send LSASE for Wish List Registry form, to: Cascade Models, 5310 136th Pl. SW, Edmonds, WA 98026. Do it today and get Breyers (instead of socks & underwear) for Christmas this year!

Here's an idea... Phone in your ads! I work at home, and am usually here all day, so go ahead and call—I'll take your ad in person! 303-447-2675

announcements about winnings, shows, horses, new acquisitions, gossip, anything! Tell us about that live show you went to that was a bore! Or was great! Or what you've got cooking for next year. Send it now! (You know what I'd reeeeeeely like to see here? Those personal ads in that alien language that are rampant right now in the Hobby Horse News! I love trying to imagine what they're talking about! Those creatures could converse every month in SH! Oh well, I guess they're not SH subscribers...their loss!)

I wanted to let those who were interested know that my foray into holding a live show at a dude ranch didn't go anywhere. Too much money!

Also, I've decided not to host a big all-halter live show here in the Denver area next summer. Quite frankly, I'm afraid to commit myself to a nice hotel/hall/awards and other upfront expenses, only to have just a few showers turn up! I've been invited to judge the '93 Ozark Mtn. Live Show in May, and I accepted. Between that and other live shows I want to compete in next year, plus pursue my other life here in CO, I could see my summer evaporating fast! So, maybe 1993...

Well, I'll be back before you know it...and thanks for all your support! I really love putting together this little paper, and I think this current form will serve us well.

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

The Small Horse Introductory Subscription Offer is still available! You can get 14 issues for the price of 12, if you subscribe now! This offer will expire without notice, so tell your hobby friends to stop stealing your issue and buy their own! Only $5.00 per year for 12 (monthly) issues! Whatta deal!

Waaaaaaah!

Something terrible happened to me while I wasn't paying attention! I think the editor decided to have some fun with the picture controls, at my expense!

(This is an Official "Space-Filler"! If you'd like to see less of this kind of thing, send in your ad today!)
And, just for fun, can you identify this horse's make and mold?

Featured Model

This is the classic Breyer "Ginger" CM by Cathy (vonMatt) Tweedale, of Chilliwack BC, Canada.

Issue Number 3
October 1992

Editor's Notes

Hello! I hope this issue finds all of you enjoying the great fall weather! (It's my favorite season.) The leaf colors here were just getting nice, and now tomorrow there is a chance of snow! But I love snow, so that's OK by me. Last year we got 6" of snow a week in November, and had practically the best skiing of the year at Thanksgiving! Bring it on!

Maybe some of you more eagle-eyed readers have noticed that so far, each issue of SH has looked a little different, and not just in size. Well, we never want to be stuck in a design rut, and we're also new enough that we can still experiment to find what works best. Last issue I enlarged the masthead type, (how many noticed that?) and tried mailing without stapling the issue. Please let me know if yours arrived OK this way! This issue we're 4 pages, folded, on one sheet of paper, plus I changed to a different text typeface. I believe that this is the format we'll live with for awhile. If I don't get a lot of submissions, I'll fill in with little articles I dream up. PULEEZZEE send stuff! I'd rather design than write!

Where are all your sale ads? I'll bet every one of you has at least ONE horse you'd like to get rid of...I know I always seem to! Send it in! It's free, and could get a quick response—what more do you want? I'd like to see more

Hobby News

Lynn Isenbarger wrote with an interesting note about Sears: She had to order 3 porcelain "Spotted Bears" to finally get one that didn't have cracks, pits, unsanded seams, etc. She returned the first 2 at one time, and mentioned to the clerk that she thought Breyer would be receiving a lot of that model back, as rejects. "Oh no," the clerk replied, "we don't send them back to the company, we destroy them. We fill out a form to send to Breyer for reimbursement." Lynn suggests we might start nosing around our local Sears catalog store's dumpsters, as there may be a lot of Breyer rejects tossed there! Get out your gas masks and dive in!

I (your Editor) spoke to a friend who spoke to some folks (there's nothing like having first-hand information..!) who made it to the Marney Walerius collection sale, and apparently there were some major bargains to be had. We were surprised to hear that there wasn't a huge crowd of the "big name" collectors, (about 50 buyers showed up) and a lot of good test runs and other models sold at 1/3 to 1/2 of collector prices. Some of the pieces scheduled to be auctioned on Sunday were pulled, because people simply ran out of money! Alas! There are supposedly many still unsold, and no one is sure what will happen to them. Greg Walerius was apparently somewhat rude and unhelpful to collectors during this sale, and had made comments to the effect that any unsold models would never be seen again (i.e. destroyed)! I sure wish I knew who turned him so sour on model horse collectors! As usual, I would guess it was a few overly-greedy persons pestering him so much, that he became negative on the hobby as a whole. Apparently the models are still around at this writing, but no one knows their fate. The Bentleys, who were involved in the initial sale, have supposedly said they will not handle any further sales. Anyone who has anything to add to this story or who can clarify anything, please write. Friends, if we learn nothing else from Marney's passing, it is that all of us should, right now, put down on paper (in your will or somewhere), what is to be done with your collection!
